CALL FOR PAPERS

The 2nd Doctoral Colloquium on Sustainable Development DOC-ME'2023

Respected colleagues,

"The 2nd Doctoral Colloquium on Sustainable Development, DOC-ME'2023" is a two-day event which will take a place on 5th and 6th of October at University of Montenegro, Faculty of Maritime Studies in Kotor, Montenegro.

DOC-ME provides a unique opportunity for domicile, regional and international PhD students to present their research results in front of their colleagues, mentors, academic and scientific community as well as representatives of non-academic sector.

This colloquium is an excellent opportunity for PhD students to receive in-depth feedback on their (ongoing) research (proposals), to demonstrate how well they have mastered the methodology of presenting scientific and research work and to gain additional experience participating in scientific meetings and events.

INVITATION

Contributions from all application areas, directly or indirectly related to the Sustainable development, are welcomed. Themes and topics include, but are not limited to: natural, technical, social, humanistic, multidisciplinary and art disciplines.

Students can submit three types of papers: regular, short and extended abstract, which will be reviewed by the Scientific Committee and published in the Proceedings, visible in academic database and resources.

The registration is free and more details can be found at: <https://doc-me.com/>

We greatly appreciate if you find this information interesting for you or pass it to your colleagues.

We look forward to giving you all a warm welcome at DOC-ME'2023.

Chairman, Prof. Dr Radovan Stojanović

Head of Doctoral Program "Sustainable Development"
